

Local Elections 2009 Voter Information

Note: In order to vote in Ireland a person must:

- Be at least 18 years old on or before the day of the election
- Be ordinarily resident at the address at which s/he wishes to register
- Not be registered as an elector at any other address
- Be listed on either the "Register of Electors" or its "Supplement"

Supplementary Registration Form:

- If you have not registered by 25th November 2008 or if you have changed address you can still register to vote by using the RFA3 supplementary registration form. These applications can be made up until 18th May 2009 prior to the actual date of the election in June but the application forms must be stamped at a local Garda Station (or by another public official as detailed on the form). Photographic identification may be required and you should bring some such identification and other supporting identification to assist the Garda (Asylum seekers can bring their temporary identification card).
